NEW OBLEANS, Nov. 16.—A Browns-ville Mexican Republican extra of the 7th inst. announces the capture of Mon-terey by the Liberals, under Poveris.— It also says that no reinforcements ar-rived for Brownsville.

A merchant who arrived here says that a large French force is landing at Bagdad.

that a large French force is landing at Bagdad.

The extra says that Gen. Pedro Menden had arrived and joined Corido, before Matamoras, with 1800 Liberals, and had previously surprised the Hydhinia Linasqui, and uiterly destroyed the Imperial garrison of 100 men.

The Liberals claim they can take Matamoras when they please.

The Ranchero says:

The Liberals offer four hours' plunder of Matamoras to any United States troops at Brownsville, who will join them. The Ranchero warns the Federal commander to keep a sufficient force.

Gen. Grant—The Situation in Mexic New York, Nov.17.—Yesterday Gen.
Grant visited Dubois' private trotting track, wherea grand display of trotting horses was made. In the evening he visited Niblos'.

The World's Washington dispatch Intelligence has been received here to-day, and communicated to the proper authorities, relative to the situation in Mexico. A gentleman has arrived here, whose word can be vouched for, who says that on his way from Tobasco to New York, within the past two weeks, he met an agentiof Maximilian, who stated that affairs were nearly in extremes for the Imperialists, that every reported victory of the Imperialists brought with it no substantial results.

voyage, and refused the rebel Captain permission to search her. The Bull Dog followed the Voldrague which accompanied her to Cape Haytien, and, sending a boat sahore, was informed that none of his boats could land unless by superior force of arms. A heavily armed launch was sent with orders to land, but failed, being met by a charge of bayonets from the infantry. The crew were, however, permitted to take off the British Consul.

The Bull Dog then prepared to fight, and the consul again landed, but no further communication was permitted with shore, except afterward through the boats of the U. S. steamer De Soto. Meanwhile the people were greatly exasperated at the conduct of the British commander. Even the women came out of the british errord. asperated at the conduct of the British commander, Even the women came out of the houses armed with knives, and swore vengeance on the English crew if they attempted to land. They broke open the British Consulate and cook therefrom seven refugees beonging to Jeffrard, concealed there for protection, and held them as hostages. The Bull Dog went to see and returned the following morning accompanied by three of Jeffeard's steamers. She opened fire on Fort Plcolet, pouring in two heavy broadsides. Men were scattered on the ramparts, but they soon manned their pieces and replied with three or four guns. The Bull Dog steamed ahead and fired upon the town with shell and grape, and started to run down the Voldegue, but got aground as already stated. She continued to pour broadsides into the open town.

Lieutenant Commanding Howell of the De Soto, was on shore on duty with a boat's crew, and miraculously escaped with their lives.

Capt. Walker of the Desoto sent a boat aboard the Bull Dog to know why her commander was bombarding the town without notifying him as he had promised, and without informing the foreign consnis. Meanwhile, Captain Walker sent his boat noter.

mander of the Bull Dog replied to Walker's message that he appealed to American generosity and hoped that Capt. Walker would not take advantage of his unfortunate position. The Bull Dog kept up a constant fire on the town all day, and late in the evening begged Capt. Walker to take the hauser from him and tow him off, promising to stop firing and leave the harbox. Otherwise he would be compelled to blow up the ship. Walker declined any assistance except to take the wounded abovard which was done. The Bull Dog continued firing till sundown. During the engagement she had ope officer and two men killed and fifteen wounded. At half-past 10 o'clock she was blown up. as blown up.

Money Matters at Cincinnati.

OINGINNATI, Nov. 17.—There is no unsual movement in the money market. The demand is moderate, but it is fully as large as could be met. Deposit lines are comparatively low, and discount lines are already full. The latter, especially with the National Banks, cannot be extended without sales of securities, and this managers will not be likely to do at present low prices for the latter. There is, besides, a nervous feeling in financial circles, and the determination of bankers is to strengthen themselves. As matters stand they would not, even if able, increase their discounts. Merchanis report a falling off in collections, and under the exist-Money Matters at Cincinnati. Special says:

Witnesses thus far examined in the Craven court martial case have given the weight of testimony decidedly in favor of the Commodore.

Pittsburgh Live Stock Market. PITISBURGH, Nov. 17.
The market during the week contain
I an ample supply of the various do riptions. The market seemed weal Philadelphia and Baltimore being ten cents per owt., and to New York fifteen cents. These are what are termed the winter rates. These rates will no doubt cause sales to be made in this market instead of being forwarded East. Tak-ing lart week's rates as a criterion for cattle, the figures exhibit a decline. The principal purchasers were the butchers, who seem to have lain in an abundant surply. Below will be found don't see any money in hogs at the present rates. They have come to the conclusion that prices must decline before packing will be inaugurated in this district. A few hundred head was disposed of principally on speculation at $11all 75 per cwt. Kerwin & Crum sold 30 head, average weight 202 pounds, at $11 25. These seemed to be the range. Sherr—The market exhibited but few changes since our last and prics have been uniform. The sales were restricted to a few hundred head, dity butchers being the largest purchasers. Prices ranged from $5 25at 50 per head. Kerwin & Crum sold 173 head, weight 97 pounds, at $5 50 per cwt.
